RESIDENTIAL DESIGN

WITH TED HANDY & ASSOCIATES

creating spaces that unite your aspirations and lifestyle

Each day we make decisions. Decisions for work, decisions for family, decisions for ourselves. In today's fast-paced, digital information age, selection and choice is found wherever you turn. When it comes to residential design we ought to carefully weigh the elements of artistry with functionality and long-term sustainability. This is a delicate balance of skill and understanding that we as a firm believe essential to the challenges and success of residential design excellence.

It is our responsibility as the architect to pull together all the needs, wants, expectations and dreams of the client while considering the many other factors that will play a significant role within each project. It is our job to ask the right questions and help lead the client through a process that will ultimately achieve the dream home or retreat they set out for.

We will get to know you and your family to understand your own unique culture that will be reflected in the design and layout. The experience of each home should begin at the front entrance and carry throughout the entire plan.

Along with many other factors on new designs, we must consider the positioning of the building on the site to maximize the use of natural daylighting and view lines one would wish to take full advantage of.

We will act as a liaison for the client between the local authorities having jurisdiction to ensure all conservation and zoning laws are abided by.

We will help make recommendations on material selection and furniture layouts along with contractors and other specialists, which may be resourced to advise on the project.

Collaboration is key throughout the process of residential design as it is with any creative objective. Ted Handy and Associates are here to be the partner that understands your goals and makes the decision process simple. It is through our many years of residential experience and our enthusiasm for thoughtfully crafted space that generates that alluring sense of 'home sweet home'.

WHAT WE VALUE

TED HANDY & ASSOCIATES

We value the individual.

We want to get to know you and your dreams for this project. Who will live in this home or visit this retreat? How do you entertain? What types of activities do you enjoy as a family? What sorts of changes to your home life do you anticipate in the coming years? It's through this dialogue that we gain insight on how to design the right home or retreat for you and those who will use the spaces within.

We value the environment.

For being a green-minded firm before it was considered 'hip', we are thrilled to see the explosion of support for sustainable living. As our world becomes better educated on how to take care of it, we are given more and more opportunities to design sustainable spaces that will not only reduce our carbon footprint, but also become healthier places to spend our lives.

We value the pursuit of excellence.

We take great pride in our design work and seek to achieve a high level of excellence in the buildings and spaces we create. Whether it's the overall master plan of a large scale residence or a small complex detail requiring artistic problem solving, we enjoy the challenge of developing the right solution whatever the scale of the project. Through education and by remaining current with the latest trends and technology out there on the market, we seek to continually improve ourselves as designers and expand the expertise we have to offer our clients.
